DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-15, 19-20, 22-23, 26-28 and 31-40, drawn to methods for making a transformed plant, a DNA construct comprising a plant promoter, and a transformed plant and plant cell, classified in class 800, subclass 298, for example.
- II. Claims 16-18, 21, 24-25 and 29-30, drawn to a DNA construct, a vector, a cell and a chimeric polynucleotide, classified in class 435, subclass 320.1, for example.

For inventions I-II above, restriction to one of inventions (A)-(I) is also required under 35 USC 121. Therefore, upon election of either of Inventions I or II, one of inventions (A)-(I) must also be elected.

- (A) SEQ ID NOS:1 and 2
- (B) SEQ ID NOS:3 and 4
- (C) SEQ ID NOS:5 and 6
- (D) SEQ ID NOS:7 and 8
- (E) SEQ ID NOS:9 and 10
- (F) SEQ ID NOS:11 and 12
- (G) SEQ ID NOS:13 and 14

Art Unit: 1638

(H) SEQ ID NOS:15 and 16

(I) SEQ ID NOS:17 and 18

Applicants are reminded that nucleotide sequences encoding different amino acid sequences are structurally distinct chemical compounds and are unrelated to one another. These sequences are thus deemed to normally constitute independent and distinct inventions within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 121. Absent evidence to the contrary, each such nucleotide sequence is presumed to represent an independent and distinct invention, subject to a restriction requirement pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 121 and 37 CFR 1.141 et seq. This requirement is not to be construed as a requirement for an election of species, since each nucleotide and amino acid sequence is not a member of a single genus of invention, but constitutes an independent and patentably distinct invention.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions (A)-(I) are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions represent structurally different polynucleotides and the polypeptides they encode. Therefore, where structural identity is required, such as for expression or hybridization, the different sequences have different effects.

Inventions II and I are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the DNA construct and chimeric polynucleotide can be used in a materially different process of using that product, such as a hybridization method or a method for producing a recombinant protein.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, their recognized divergent subject matter, and the requirement for different areas of search, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
